

Parapsychology
Intro-BEMFF

Every person on this planet had a beginning to his or her life. My life was just as normal a start as the next humans' life was to him and to avoid being sexist, hers. By the time I was two years old, I am told, there were marked differences in my mannerisms as compared to my childhood companions. My parents were able to actually sit me down as a two year old, comfortably on a couch, walk away for a long period of time and I would still be sitting where they had placed me without any obvious change in my position. This was very surprising to them as new parents and to others in the family circle who was able to observe this non-movement of my head and other extremities.

Most children at such a young age wiggle giggle and are active participants of any space they find themselves in and usually chatter all the time. Noise is a two year olds best outlet for attention.

I was told by my mother that my eyes were coal black dark with golden blonde hair. You were able to see those eyes of mine go back and forth with such precision that there was a resemblance to a robot when looking at me.

About now you are wondering what this little home-spun talk is leading too. Well, the answer is simple and yet complicated. My parents did not know that their strange little girl was a psychic and a natural telepathic.

As I grew older I went through the many stages a psychic transcends; which amounts to always questioning why people are not like me. Upon reaching the age of 12 years old I knew for sure my telepathic abilities were real and I was very adept at sending thoughts. But I needed to learn more about what was going on in my head and around my physical body all the time. I thirsted for books about paranormal experiences and I drank up all the words those books would have me swallow. The main knowledge that was given to me came from all the religious and sacred books of the East, West and all places in between was, that Parapsychology is a science. It is a true and exact science with boundaries and borders and mathematical equations that relate to all who live on planet earth.

Americans, in general, are very skeptical when it comes to even speaking about Parapsychology. Religion most always plays a silent role in whether a person in the USA wants to even hear about what might be a little off-center and strange to them. But thank God for the Russians. According to a little book I had acquired for my personal library called The New Soviet Psychic Discoveries by Henry Gris and William Dick; this book says on the outside cover, "In 1977, the KGB arrested an American reporter for allegedly accepting "secret" data on ESP experiments. Clearly, the USSR considers Parapsychology a serious business and their progress in it a military secret!"

This book is a true account from a couple of reporters and their efforts in going to the Soviet Union and finding out more about what and how the Soviets were progressing in their research. This little book had its first printing in 1979. I was so impressed with their determination to enter a country that was in a "cold war" with America that I felt it necessary to read the entire book. I found on page 76 that the first person they really wanted to see was a man named Dr. Adamenko. According to the book he was a physicist at the National Institute of Normal Physiology in Moscow. He was reported to be the leading parapsychology researcher in Moscow.

This man was married to a woman named Alla who had telekinetic powers. Telekinetic abilities are when a person is able to move objects just by putting their hands close to something they wish to move up, down, or all around. This particular ability I only have to a very small extent. Not really worth mentioning. It is an ability that I wish to develop to perfection. The only time I use it now is when I want to win a pool game and impress the people watching. But they don't know I am using telekinesis. I first found out that I had this ability when I was playing pool. How Alla found out about her ability, I just don't know. The reporters did not go into it in the book. But I know one thing; this book was just filled from cover to cover with information regarding Parapsychology. The writer's Gris and Dick did an excellent job of going from one topic to the next concerning the science of parapsychology. In Russia they treat telepathy, telekinesis, Kirlian Effect, ESP, the study of UFO's and much more as a science; with all being respected in that country.

Whereby, in this country (USA) people look upon such abilities as given to kooks or weirdoes. I have even heard the studies referred to as Satanism or the worship of Satan. My knowledge is very lengthy into these subjects and I reject the thoughts or statements that the Psychic Sciences are Satanic or strange and even deviant in some way. Yes, there are people who abuse names related to such studies. Mostly these are people looking for quick money. I have always said that gifts do not have a price tag. Many people have these gifts and do not get paid for helping others.

Gypsies do not believe as I do. They ask for and receive money for knowledge that has been handed down through many generations. Information that is exactly what I have practiced and the Russians have studied as a science. From the beginning I first found myself to have gifts I felt there had to be a scientific reason for what I was able to do. What I work with is the Bio-Electrical Magnetic Force-Field (BEMFF).

On pages 78 and 79 of the book named Secrets of the Gypsies by Pierre Derlon, a figure of a woman's magnetic force-field is shown and also a drawing of a man's magnetic force-field is shown. The Gypsies have used this force-field to read palms and give advice to strangers for centuries. Yes, I also read palms. Reading palms was part of my studies into the paranormal and my learning which is why I was able to do things others could not do. Even though I agree with the Gypsies and how their methods work; I do not believe one should charge for what I call "gifts" from God. Yet I have charged as part of my studies and charging took me many years to do. From my reading of palms I found out that I was really using my telepathic powers more than the charts from all the palmistry books I had read. So thus, I believe, Gypsies are also very telepathic and this is what they are doing when they read a person's palm.

Right about now you may be saying to yourself; Bio-electrical Magnetic Field? What is that? How I came upon that description for telepathy and most other abilities relating to parapsychology is from a wonderful book that had its first copyright in 1962 and the second copyright or printing in 1972. The name of the book is what I like better than most of the other books I am using for my book on telepathy. It is called Experiments in Applied Physics by Norman C. Harris, professor of Technical Education and Coordinator of Community College Development, The University of Michigan. Harris speaks in his writing so well on electricity and magnetism that I must include one of his paragraphs to explain how I came about calling what I work with the Bio-Electrical Magnetic Force-Field.

Professor Harris concludes, "One of the important phenomena associated with electric charges is that there is surrounding the charge a "field" of force which is similar in some ways to the field surrounding a magnet but in many ways is different in its properties. The concept or idea of a field is basic to the development of our knowledge of magnetic and electric phenomena. Magnetic forces have their origin at the magnet, and electric forces have their origin at the point of electric charge. Surrounding a magnet or an electric charge there are, however, areas (or spaces) in which “action-at-a-distance” forces exist. These areas or spaces in which forces are present are called fields.”

Harris goes on to say, “the idea of a field of force is a part of the central core of scientific knowledge.” Thank you doctor for your well stated scientific explanation of what I term Bio-Electrical Magnetic Force-Field. Bio meaning related to the biology of a person. Simple? Yes! In understanding what the doctor and I have just said, all a person needs to do is turn on their television set or radio and there is a demonstration of the electrical field. If you are able to accept that there is an electrical field going into your television and producing something; then you are capable of understanding that this same field may be tapped into by anyone if they know how to do it with their own bio-electrical impulses; also a proven fact if anyone has ever had an EEG or EKG which sends impulses to a machine from a person’s body and on a piece of paper a clear picture of lines can be seen of this electrical field.

These impulses come from everywhere in and surrounding our bodies; most electrical charges come forth from our brains, which we now know from many doctor’s researches into our skulls that we do, in fact, have neuron receptors that send signals to all parts of our bodies via our brain waves. Now that I have your attention: Picture yourself being able to control those electrical charges going in and out of your brain. Yes, you are able to accomplish that feat. I have and I do teach others how to do the same things. It has been my pleasure to learn and conduct experiments all my life.

If anyone reading this wishes to have the experience of their life and challenge me on what I have just said about using the electrical impulses within your brain to control and transmit thought waves or any other par psychological abilities then test yourself and go to Egypt. But if you cannot afford the trip to Egypt where you would stand in the center of the great pyramid of Giza (King’s Chamber); I offer you another book to explore. The author, A. Pochan wrote The Mysteries of The Great Pyramids and on the last page I just have to quote what he ends saying, “We are still a long way from solving the Isiac mysteries of ancient Egypt, and the inscription quoted by Plutarch from a statue thought to be of Isis, in a temple in Sais, still holds true: “I am all that has been, and is, and shall be, and my robe no mortal has yet uncovered.”

I would like to say I have great respect for this saying and all those that have gone to Giza before me, but I do feel I have uncovered the “what” the Great Pyramid of Giza was used for then and may be used for now. I conducted experiments within the King’s Chamber on four occasions, twice in 1982 and the last time in March of 1990. I found this chamber to be a conductor of electrical impulses which may be used to heal a person, to send thoughts anywhere in the world, and the rest must be kept a secret by me until the time is correct for people of planet earth to know.

My experiments are now focused towards crystals. I have used them (crystals) to heal small wounds and to take pain away. These crystal healing experiments have been going on since 1986. In that year my son almost died and I found out that we all have a healing power within and it may be used in an emergency. My hands turned extremely red as I put them over his body in the emergency trauma room of the local hospital; a friend helped with his feet; the doctors and nurses had left the room and were allowing a mother to say goodbye to her son. I glanced over at the monitors and saw he was almost gone; but what I had learned from the Great Pyramid in Giza I put to work; and with God’s help he sat up and vomited which immediately aroused all the nurses and doctors who came running back in the room to then take care of his needs once again; when they felt he would live. Used was what I had learned through my work in the pyramids and a few hundred books.

Since, acquiring my degrees, I have learned that my place on earth is helping others. Once I felt I should be in a lab, just like a guinea pig. But now I know, for sure, that when you achieve, by learning a great deal, you must give back to the world some of your knowledge. So from my humble beginnings as all of us have in common, I now chose to bow to those that have taught me and go out and teach others how to help themselves through whatever gift or gifts within the realm of parapsychology a person has been lucky enough to have been given by God. May all who read this know that the knowledge is out there and as one much greater than I once said, "Seek and Ye shall find." I found the truth and so will you; ask, read and open your eyes, the world is full of love and electrical impulses to be used for the good of mankind.
