“Lucy, you have requested a Tarot reading because you have doubts and issues about your future.

“Specifically, you are concerned about the security of your present employment and, also, the outlook of your future business relations.

“You, also, ask about the security of your romantic relationship and the outlook of future relationships.

“This reading will provide answers. If the answers do not satisfy your specific doubt or issue, then ask yourself if the answers apply to deeper issues in your mind.

“The word arcane is the plural of the Latin word arcanium, meaning Secret. This reading is based on the Major Arcana Tarot cards and will reveal secret keys to your future as reflected in your two major personal worlds of Survival and Reproduction.

“This reading is given in total privacy with only you and me present because my reading of the secret keys may touch upon matters that are very personal and private.”

“You have selected The High Priestess as your Dominant Significator.

“The High Priestess is a card which reflects mystery and non-action and foretells that in your future you will strike a balance between initiative and resistance.”

“In the Survival world, your future will not be revealed with specificity to you at this time because hidden influences and secret forces remain active, unsettled and subject to creative forces.

“You will find yourself tending to be relatively passive and simply allowing events to proceed. It is only when you pierce this veil with focused action based on fixed desires that your vision of reality can be actualized.”

“In the Reproduction world, you will be considered the perfect lover through your instinctive understanding of the sexual needs of your partner and your drive to meet and satisfy each and every sexual need of your partner.

“Your focused assertiveness and lack of sexual inhibitions will join with expectations and patience to generate the revelation of heretofore hidden sexual knowledge fostering a new era for you filled with sexual ecstasy and electrifying orgasmic activity for you and intense eruptive orgasms for your partner.”

“In Survival matters relating to your occupational business and financial affairs, you need to be alert and vigilant for misleading information of unfulfilled promises.

“In Reproductive and family matters of business, romance and health, do not exercise implicit trust but patiently ask questions and test the reasonableness of all important decisions.

“Be aware that deadlines, commitments and agreements cannot be relied upon unless these matters are reduced to written form with an identifiable and reliable source.

“In your personal and intimate relationships, you need to be especially watchful for a deceitful and/or cheating lover or companion in matters such as focusing entirely on their own self-interests to the detriment of your interests and/or your unrevealed exposure to sexually transmitted diseases. A male companion may mislead you regarding his sexual orientation.

“You may feel an intuitive answer to questions posed or detected by you as to a daughter’s romantic relationship, but you will restrain yourself from any act of meddling or interference and will find it more productive and effective to remain passive and simply allow your daughter’s personal events to proceed, your role being one of material support, only.”

“You have selected The Lovers as your Hidden Influence card.

“The selection of this card foretells that your future will be one of harmony and union with your choices being made more by intuition than intellect, to wit: You will be inclined to go with a gut feeling over logical judgment.”

“In the Survival word of business and occupational career, you will achieve success in terms of money and harmony. You will relate well with others and make many new connections and enjoy very positive business relations. Your self-confidence and unshakeable resolve will bring you much success.”

“In your Reproductive world, new love, interest and harmony will overshadow a history of disrespect and disinterest.

“You will find many positive rewards in the areas of sexual relationships and love. Your intuition and gut feelings prove to be correct and reliable. In your future romantic relations, you will reap rewards, benefits and new-found satisfaction by taking a chance and exercising without restraint your freedom of choice.

“You will feel driven to satisfy your partner’s sexual appetite totally and completely. The intensity and excitement of your coital and lovemaking skills will dazzle and satisfy even the most sexually charged partner.”

“Be alert for a cheating or deceptive partner in business and financial interests or in health issues, such as your undisclosed exposure to sexually transmitted diseases or the undisclosed sexual orientation of a prospective partner.

“There may be a short period of time when you experience a flattened affect with regard to romantic interests manifesting itself in a temporary lack of sexual appetite or you tend to become too moralistic to the extent that it becomes a hindrance to your own personal satisfaction.”

“You have selected Strength as your Significator.

“The selection of this card reflects spiritual power and the union of desires creating such strength that even hidden, unconscious forces bow before it.”

“In the Survival world, your spiritual power will enable you to overcome greedy material urges manifested by others or by yourself, a very positive key for sound and productive business relations.

“Your willpower, courage, personal self-confidence and unshakeable resolve will bring you much career success.”

“In the Reproduction world, your imagination, patience and ability to cope with emotional and social pressures reward you with personal triumph in a new romantic and sexual relationship.

“In your intimate life, you will feel driven to satisfy a man’s ego and sexual appetite. Your personal drive and the strength and power of your coital skills will totally and completely satisfy even the most sexually voracious partner.”

“You may experience a lack of sexual appetite or become too moralistic. In your pursuit of satisfying your partner’s penile appetite, do not sacrifice yourself or allow such drive to interfere with your overall objective of fulfilling your own orgasmic needs.

“Do not restrain yourself through fear of new challenges. Exercise initiative and communicate to your partner every stimulating activity you need from him that excites and promotes your reward of sexual ecstasy.”

“In conclusion, the secret keys of the Major Arcana indicate that you may proceed into your future life with optimism, confidence, high expectations and peace of mind, even as you remain alert to deceit and misrepresentations.

“All cautionary signs and keys are revealed as being within your power to control. You will exercise your power and strength to overcome any new challenge.

“Your intuition and skill in relationships bring you to new heights of understanding, enlightenment and satisfaction in career and personal interests.

“Your choice and expectations of future intimate companions will be justified and fulfilling. What was once obscure and vague soon will be revealed and understood. A new romantic and sexual relationship will bring you wonderful levels of excitement, joy and satisfaction.

“As in any life, you will face issues and challenges; however, your personal strength and resolve will carry the day.

“Overall, your future is filled with harmony, financial and material success and abundant new sexual gratification and romantic satisfaction.

“Lucy, relax and enjoy yourself. Your life is taking a turn toward new happiness and fulfillment.”
