

Abby lives looking over her shoulder. No matter where she goes, the past seems to follow. Feeling trapped, Abby knows there is nowhere to run. Wherever she goes, the problems find her. Nightmares of a deeply hidden past fill her sleep. Never staying in one place too long makes keeping friends impossible, creating a life of utter solitude. When a romance forms after a chance encounter, Abby clings to it with a new-found hope of it being her only chance to live happily ever after; but her stalker is not far away, his anger mounting. Difficulties occur, making Abby wonder if she will ever live happily ever after. Will anything good come from the ashes of her past?

SARAH TAGERT is the author of Like a Shadow. She resides in rural Mississippi where she enjoys caring for her dairy goats. Much of her time is spent volunteering in the county 4-H program. She leads the entomology club, also lending her time to the field and stream and livestock clubs. A former 4-H'er, Sarah received 4-H'er of the Year award twice. Since becoming a volunteer she has been awarded Outstanding Club Leader.
