

That's Not Funny! By Vince Sanders

Tom Dreesen

Tim Reid

How come the Nation's first Black and White stand up comedy team (Tim & Tom) couldn't stay together?

Was it educational and cultural differences—or maybe one was funnier than the other?

Could it have been the Nation's audiences weren't ready for their approach to racial humor back in 1969?

It couldn't have been something as commonplace as a woman coming between them...could it? The story is in the book!

Available thru

Amazon.com

&

Other major book sellers

Author Vince Sanders served as the initial manager of Tim & Tom. He had a ringside seat through the good and not so good years—watching both men rise to stardom against the odds. Vince is a retired broadcaster living in his home state of Florida after 45 years in Chicago and New York City.

Media review copies available through:

Vincnet@cfl.rr.com

Phone: 321-277-7214

P.O.Box 917358

Longwood, Florida 32791

