

M. B. Fields, Jr. is a single, 52 year-old man who lives his bliss, when not traveling around the world, in Southeastern Indiana and Southeastern Illinois.

He is a full-time writer, and educator of music and writing. He is the owner and CEO of Grand Organ Productions LLC, the responsible party for all titles in The Grand Organ Mysteries series.

Stay tuned for some exciting news regarding the very first ever, completely internet-driven, international Pipe Organ Grand Competition, hosted, sponsored, and delivered by Grand Organ Productions, LLC.

M. B. Fields, Jr. was raised "among the Hill people" in the beloved Appalachian Mountains of Southeastern Kentucky. He has been a working concert artist for pipe organ and piano manufacturers for more than 27 years. He is a music educator, and a Minister of Music and Worship.

He is also the Administrator of one of the world's most prolific and highly regarded online writing institutions, the A-1 Writing Academy at <http://www.writing.com>.

When not writing the next novel, preparing the next pipe organ competition, or teaching the next writing lesson, Bud enjoys being single, living near his dearest friends, and writing computer programs!

You can email him at bud@grandorganproductions.net

When not travelling the world, Bud lives in Clarksville, Indiana and Benton, Illinois. You can find out much more about Grand Organ Productions LLC by visiting the real-life website that serves as home to the entire cast and characters of The Grand Organ Mysteries.

The Notre Dame Concert (Opus I)

The Grand Organ Mysteries The Notre Dame Concert (Opus I)

M. B. Fields, Jr.

After the completion of a twelve-year restoration project, approved by both the French Government and the Pontiff of the Roman Catholic Church, a re-dedication concert is planned. After 70 years, the "Voice of Our Lady" will be heard again!

The people of France will, after 7 years, and more than $65 million, once again hear the sound that makes all Parisians truly French: the notes coming from the pipes of the two magnificent organs of the Cathedrale du Notre Dame!

Someone, however, wants the "Voice of Our Lady" to remain silent. It seems someone is perfectly willing to commit murder to make sure the "Voice of Our Lady" says nothing at all!

It would appear that neither the French Government nor the Church in Rome mind silence so much, either!

In this, the first volume of The Grand Organ Mysteries, author and concert artist M. B. Fields, Jr. takes us from the gentle rolling hills of Central Kentucky's Bluegrass to the spires of the world-famous Notre Dame Cathedral in Paris, France in an exciting musical mis-adventure that will keep you turning page after page.

Come along, with Dr. Melvin Blair and his nearly capable team as they discover a very new truth behind a very old secret.

Join Cameron, Betty, Captain Stearns and the rest of the Grand Organ team on this first grand adventure!
