

Leopold and his parents wait patiently for his first birthday February 29th to arrive, but it just never seems to come.

Finally, the wise old doctor figures out why the seasons continue to pass without any recognition of his special day...
Mother explains it as a “Peek-a-boo holiday...”
“It’s there, it is just hiding”

Perfect for preschool to primary

www.artistic-ventures.com