

CeCeJo Suire, known as Pastor CeCe, was born in July 1963. She grew up an only child, and resided in a small Louisiana town all her life and now resides in California. She had a desire to know the Lord in a special way that has been transformed into print and is easy to understand, even for the not-majoring-in-"theology"-minded person. She says, "I was always fascinated with the Word of God; however, considering my limited spiritual upbringing, the Bible was always confusing."

After the birth of my granddaughter in 2005, I sought the Lord about a way to teach His Word in a manner not to overwhelm anyone. During normal playtime in the yard with my tiny granddaughter, I received a revelation of God's Word in such a "childlike" manner that even a young one could comprehend it with great understanding and knowledge. On that day, The Wind Carries His Whisper was birthed. What I've learned from writing these inspirations is the fact that most times we are listening for a "loud" voice when we wish to hear the Lord, and all we have to do is be receptive of the faintest whisper.
