He was a student! A prisoner! A murderer! An escapee! And a hero! All in one week!

- Little did he know that a few miles down the road, Bangkok was teeming with half a million citizens demanding his release?
- Little did he know that the Thai people would resurrect him as their spokesperson and hero?
- Little did he know that his paternal father had just landed in Bangkok consumed with taking up the search for him?
- Little did he know that his girl friend of three years would soon betray him?
- Little did he know that within the hour he'd have a $50,000 bounty on his head?
