

Young, beautiful, and intelligent, Liza Dozier had a promising future ahead of her. Popular in and out of school, she seemed happy. Liza carried a dark secret that would rip her family apart. Things were looking good for now, but as she grew older the past came back to haunt her. Liza, the eldest out of seven children, knew she had a decision to make and she wasn't sure if the decision she would make would cost her everything, even her soul.

Berlin Hamgorium had a darker secret that would rip his family and the world apart. Coming from the wealthiest family in town, he knew his secret would be safe forever, or would it?
