BRIEF LIST OF SUCCESS TIPS FOR WRITERS...

* Study and examine the successful publications created by other writers...such as: "HARRY POTTER" books ... writers like Stephen King, Alex Haley, Robert Kyosaki, and Maya Angelou....and other "best sellers." Seek to find out -- What are these writers doing that leads to success? What is their writing style that is so appealing? How are they advertising their books that helps create sales? Create your own methods and avenues that permit you to adopt and utilize some of their successful techniques.

* Read magazines and other publications designed to help writers--- such as: WRITERS DIGEST and POETS & WRITERS MAGAZINE. These types of publications are filled with valuable tips and resources for writers.

* You may want to join a writers group in your local town or at a college, where you can discuss your writing, and find out more about publishing opportunities. Public Libraries and Chambers of Commerce often have information about such groups, clubs, non-profit agencies, (etc.) and their events.

* Write about subjects in a new and refreshing way-- from a different angle or viewpoint. Create a new "angle" --- amazing real-life stories, odd characters, action or other unique ways... for presenting topics. If writing with about a hot "controversial topic" -- do it in a fresh new way that stirs interest (such as -- humor, testimonies, quotes from experts, parables, cartoons, etc.) -- not in ways that degrade or insult others... or that just gets people upset or angry with you.... Create material that is enjoyable, interesting -- and that addresses solutions to widespread concerns.

* Don't just write as if you are reciting from an encyclopedia. Make your writing odd, unique and special to your own style. Do not just 're-hash' what other writers have already published on your theme or topic. If you are writing poetry, songs, prayers (or similar) --- make your work ...'UNIQUE'... and empowering to readers. Use creative expressions.

* The book: GET PAID MO' MONEY is filled with info, tips, and resources for book writers... and others who want to publish their works... or earn money in the publishing business.

Use services of prof. editors, other writers, teachers, and readers to review your materials and point out what is good before you publish it.

* Create a way to STAND OUT.... Design your own theme, logo, videos, and -- produce CDs, workbooks, and other aids that distinguish your works from others that may have the same theme or cover the same topic... * In order to attract an audience to read your works -- use POST CARDS, FREE OFFERS, BOOK CLUBS, EXHIBITS, etc.

*Write about what you care about - *Passionately!
