

SAMPLE- 'DO YOU SEE...WHAT I SEE?

PAIN'S PRESENCE

These sheets have comforted me more than a woman's hands ever have Reaching new and unbelievable heights through pain
You have made me look forward to the falling of rain Knowing that to endure this for long periods of time Only makes the warmth of the sun so much better

get these chains

off of me!

i'll die!.. before becoming a slave to my brother

...or sister!

TIME QUENCHER

*After many, many shines
From the sun and glows from the moon
The gift...of Understanding is given
Of course, this only applies to the ones that Thirst...
For success*

Rub Off

You try to get away!
Even if you have to crawl... what matters is that you get away But now that you've gotten away you realize...
You've spent too much time around it
...it has begun to grow in your heart and around your lungs So now...it is not 'get away' it's...
Get out!

THE START

They took everything!

The only thing that was left was the air in my lungs but it hurt to breathe

I reached out into the darkness and it was there
...in the middle of open space
I found eternity!

Nothing else matters
No man...no woman knows...until they know!
