

Earlene Jernigan Carter, born and educated in Texas, is an inspirational writer and speaker, whose audiences include all ages.

Other works by this author include: When The Wheels Of Faith Quit Turning, a book about her detailed bout with breast cancer; The Taste Of Survival, The Larry Cox Story; Inner Thoughts When Shoulders Part, A Book of Poetry co-authored with Jerry Darden and guest Lester Carter Jr; Color My Dreams, A Book of Poetry with guest Lester Jr. & Marfa Carter, Emma J. Denkins, Al Jernigan Jr. & Vivian Story; Other selections of her work have been featured in several Anthologies and articles over the years.

Where Is Donald And Boomer

By Earlene Jernigan-Carter