

Living in a Daily Nightmare

Introduction

How do I bother to describe the Nightmare that my family and I have been through?

Daily, multiple times per day, seven days per week, four weeks per month, twelve months per year, for almost twelve years.

My story starts and ends here in New Mexico.

How we managed to live through it and survive, I just don't know myself.

Maybe it is sheer will and determination, maybe it is just wanting to move on from things that never should have happened to begin with.

I personally hate to have to go through it all over and over and over again.

I have been on this treadmill for the longest time.

Maybe this book will tell it best.

The start of a Nightmare

All my life, yes, I have had problems with people.
I admit to mistakes in life, but what human person doesn't?

I was living in AZ with my Husband and our Cat.
I had made what I had thought were Real friends with people I thought I could trust.

They invited me to a camp out event in Ruidoso, NM.
It went bad quickly and I ended up in a face to face near Gunfight.

All I wanted to do was talk, to deescalate the situation.
Threats were exchanged, he was drunk and went for his Gun, I was sober and cool under fire.

I drew down on him, faster than he could clear leather.
Next morning, I was informed that my life would be destroyed.

Well, it was indeed destroyed, despite where we are now.
Our lives went into a Tailspin and we ended up Crashing and Burning.

The following pages detail what we were put through.
I hope that this will eventually help us find some Justice, should this Book be read.

I also will give a descriptive of the Perp, all of his Lies, plus all of my own Truth, to override the Lies.

Speaking out against Stalking

To Whom it May Concern:

My Nightmare began 12 years ago, when I faced down an Armed Drunk over my Family History. It only Compounded when 4 years ago, I befriended someone who claimed to want to help me.

I know I made mistakes, but I am still paying for it, despite the Nightmare mostly being over.

My family and I lost Millions in Income, Moved Homes 8 times (this one is final and Permanent), we were Homeless 3 times, I lost a Pregnancy, My Hubby had two Jail Stints, one for Defending us from crooked Landlords, the 2nd one, for hitting me, My Best Friend and one of my Cats were Murdered, we were threatened and Harassed for everything, for every reason.

It finally came down to the point of where I couldn't take it anymore, went down into a deep, suffocating depression, becoming Suicidal at one point.

I stopped wearing Makeup too because my self esteem is so incredibly low.

Also, there are at least 6 Hate Pages against me on line, that damaged my life beyond repair.

I have had to dye my hair, take on a Stage Name, get a PR Representative, started wearing eye glasses because my health has declined into poor eye sight.

My own Biological Family wants Nothing or very little to do with me.

I still have trouble trusting others, Nightmares and occasional flash backs are common.

I am still very fearful of others and carry Guns for Protection.

I have lost both Business and Credibility.

I have lost Friendships and everything I have ever wanted.

My family and I are just now starting over.

Even though we are freed of our Nightmare, there is still No Justice.

I am having to soon get a Therapy Dog, but the losses are still innumerable.

I will have to work hard to rebuild my life.

I just want to go back to the quiet life I once knew.

I am going back to work Monday and just got another Huge break, that will mean that my life will soon return to Normal. I get stronger with each passing day.

I hope that this gives you a glimpse into the Hell that I endured.

Yours Always,

Melissa Bryan

"Katherine Horton - James"

Log of what was done to us

What we were put through:

- 1.) Moving Homes 9 times
- 2.) Homeless 3 times
- 3.) Loss of a Pregnancy
- 4.) Hated on and Abused through Hate and Abuse Websites, E Mails and Threatening Phone Calls for 11 years
- 5.) Physical Stalking beginning in 2010
- 6.) Followed me to my New Home
- 7.) Tried to run us off the road 3 times
- 8.) Forced off over 100+ Websites, Forums and Chats, some of which were mine.
- 9.) Follows me around, becomes threatening and abusive when I try to do anything or when he hates what I am doing.
- 10.) Everything I have ever tried to do, has been lied, threatened or abused away.
- 11.) Had $594.00 stolen from my family and I.
- 12.) My health is in free fall decline.
- 13.) He watches my Socials and threatens me, no matter what I say or do.
- 14.) He caused a nearly irreparable rift in my Marriage.
- 15.) He Murdered my Cat Jukebox and my Best Friend Coleen Coleman.
- 16.) He has interfered with our Internet hook up's.
- 17.) He has driven my family and I into more than 1/2 Billion in losses and damages.
- 18.) He threatens any guests and potential guests that try to come on my shows and forces them to pull out of my shows, also telling lies against me.
- 19.) He uses my E Mail Addresses illegally to try to make it look like I am sending myself threatening, abusive E Mails.

20.) I am Literally Imprisoned in my own Home.
These are the Literally Suffocating rules I am forced to live under.

I cannot:

- a.) leave my own home
- b.) cannot go over to my own Office Building
- c.) not allowed to eat
- d.) am kept up around the clock
- e.) cannot drink more than water
- f.) cannot communicate outwardly
- g.) cannot run my personal Business nor earn my own living
- h.) cannot have my life the way I want it
- i.) I stopped wearing makeup
- j.) I just stopped everything
- k.) cannot think anything
- l.) cannot want anything
- m.) cannot have anything
- n.) cannot do anything
- o.) cannot be anything
- p.) cannot feel anything
- q.) cannot be anyone
- r.) cannot go anywhere
- s.) cannot see anyone
- t.) cannot cook nor clean for my Household
- u.) cannot spend any time with my own family
- v.) cannot have any real friends
- w.) cannot go to the Grocery Store
- x.) cannot go to the Laundromat
- y.) cannot go to the Bank
- z.) cannot be seen in town until after dark

I just simply cannot anything, without fear of being Slapped at and Abused by the Stalker, getting even more Threats for doing anything outside of this.

My life is entirely shut down and at a dead stand still.

21.) He put up at least 6 Hate Websites against my family and I.

22.) I have been so badly degraded, that Nothing I make will sell.

23.) He came to the Gate of my New Home to Punish me for being me.

24.) He and his cohorts tried to run us off the road 3 times.

25.) We have been run out of more than 7 Business start up attempts.

I now have a log of a New Hate and Terror Campaign being waged against me.

- 1.) The weirdo in the Camo Jeep, to which I found another Eye Witness.
pm MST/MDT Friday, May 29, 2015, came up to my Home's Gate to harass me.
- 2.) At Alamosa, CO Wal Mart (abt. 10 pm MST/MDT), some Teens Accosted me, attempted to make me slip and fall on something slippery on the floor in a central aisle.
- 3.) Last night (abt. 10 pm MST/MDT), had to block one John McCormick for sending me inappropriate PM's.
- 4.) Tonight, (abt. 10 pm MST/MDT) had to put an immediate stop to a Hate and Defamation Campaign start up by one JP Garrett, Star Garrett and Janessa Wolf.
- 5.) Yesterday (6 - 12 - 15), a Late Model dark Blue Ford Expedition with NM Plates tried to run us off the road on State Rd. 522, around 1:30 pm MST/MDT Plate # NM CTD 362.
- 6.) Yesterday (6 - 13 - 15), the same Creep who came to my Gate on the 29th, had tried to run my Hubby and I off State Road 522, around 2:00 pm MST/MDT.
He out ran us when we tried to catch up to him, to get a Plate Number.

This whole thing has me looking over my own shoulder, waiting for the next event to happen, wondering if I am even safe in my own home.

I am sick and tired of being done dirty and I just want to be left alone to move on in peace.

I did Not move homes to incite a new round of terror against me.

I moved homes to escape what was already being done to me and to start fresh, with a new future.

We listened with glee to your radio show the other night. It is so funny how you are trying to change your name so you can escape all the scams and lies of your past. We all know it is you and we all know where you live and we will listen to your shows and have a party. Can't wait til you have an actual guest on your show so we don't fall asleep to your lisping and slurping noises!!

Only two more days til the housewarming!! Can't wait!!

No worries tomorrow we can listen to your crappy whiney radio show and laugh at you and your equally delusional guest. But you are a celebrity you market yourself put your face everywhere offer autographs insist you will be on TV.

You seek attention like Kim kardashian every moment you can. You are the poor man's Redneck's fake psychic's version of Bruce Jenner.

If you don't want attention and don't want the label celebrity then stop attention whoring. It is that simple.

But we your loyal fans know you won't ever stop seeking attention Ahahahahaha

So did the Circle Jerk Fair start today as promised? If not Danielle has a lot of explaining to do to all those investors who donated thousands of dollars or at least the one poor lady who bought the $15 pass Ahahahahaha

You are not fit to raise dough much less innocent animals humane will have to look into those goats.

Paranormal bat is the perfect radio show for you to guest on because you are not shit crazy Ahahahahaha

No wonder Danielle doesn't like taking you to town he is embarrassed to be with someone who tells entire towns, states, and universes to kiss their ass.

You should apply for disability. You would be a shoe in especially if you tell them all about making love with Billy the kid's ghost and being pregnant with his baby for 18 months.

So isn't it time for your fraudulent circle jerk fair? What excuse is Danielle going to give this year?

Only celebrity autographs are worth anything and you said you would include an autograph if someone buys your overpriced books usually it would cost more for the autograph. Therefore, only celebrities sell or give autographs therefore you = celebrity. Therefore you = a liar for claiming you are not a celebrity. So which is it?

Mysti Taos and that other guy on the Taos board are right that you are not a true Taoseno and you are delusional. You have repeatedly told Taos to kiss your ass and then you want them to buy your crap. Make up your mind.

Has poor Dukie escaped the hous yet? He would be happier on the streets or in the shelter maybe you gave him rabies while nibbling his poor tummy. Ahahahahaha

Nobody is going to give you $85 for your crappy books and the more you try to "improve" them the crappier they get.

You are delusional if you think you are going to film anywhere. That takes money that you do not have and a face that is not horribly ugly like yours to be on TV. So stop trying to scam people into believing you will be on tv.

You say you are not a celebrity and yet you keep talking about celebrity things. Make up your delusional mind already.

You will not get 5 cents much less 500 million. Especially when you don't even know who we really are Keep sending yourself fake emails to get attention the cops don't believe you Ahahahahaha

Why do you keep writing books when nobody buys the ones you already made? It isn't as if you will suddenly get better at writing Ahahahahaha

You do realize that REAL authors take months and even sometimes years to write books right?

You can't just throw a book together in 2 days and expect people to buy it Ahahahahaha

Loved your crazy laugh at the end of the radio show last night! At least you weren't able to totally ruin their show they had a really good and credible guest on after you that saved the show. Paranormal Kool-Aid indeed Ahahahahaha

Really Ass Wipe?!

Do you REALLY have THAT much of a Fucking Death Wish to Attack Me AGAIN?!

I am Proud to be eating myself to death.
I will just stay up around the clock, eat and eat and eat.
I will re gain all the weight I lost in this Move.

On or around the 23rd, I am going back to Watkins.
Anyone who doesn't like it, can KISS MY ASS!
Same for the State of NM, Town of Taos, the Entire US Gov, the Entire Globe and the Universe too.
SHOVE IT!

Ok, I want to explain something.
FOR THE LAST AND FINAL TREADMILL OF INSANITY TRUTH TIME:
Please DO NOT call me a "Celebrity."
I don't mind a little Popularity, but that term brings to mind all of those who achieved some level of Fame, who were subsequently Murdered for it.
I Do Not want anyone thinking they can use what I do to hunt me into my Grave. I won't go down without a Serious fight.
I am a Business Owner.
I work hard for everything that I do.
I want my work to be known and for being great.
I want to give the best of what I do.
You can be guaranteed I will Protect and Defend what I do and I won't put up with lies and defamation just because someone doesn't like what I do.
Want to be Famous yourself?
Knock yourself out.
Just don't do it on my time and don't try to override or overshadow the work I do.
Yes, I have a Truck and a Nice Home.
Yes, I have an Office Building of my own.
But that doesn't make me a Celebrity.
That makes me a Business Owner.
I don't have Papparazzi following me around.
There is an obsessed Stalker that doesn't understand the word NO

I don't need this crap.
I Need my Freedom and I Need to do what I work hard at.
I will be Armed at work and Always.

Honestly, I believe Taos, NM Hates me because of the Lies against me and all the Garbage I am going through.

Well, I must say, the feeling is very much mutual.
So, I will pay my Bills on line, I will buy my Groceries on line and have them delivered or mailed, as the case may be.

So, I will proceed to become a Homebound Prisoner of my own home.

I won't be seen anywhere, I will give up any ties to Taos.

I also will remain right here on my Property, where I am safe from Molestation or harm.

The War over above and against me however, will continue unabated.

I will fight to the very end of my own lifetime.

I won't be traveling nor going to any Paracons, no Book Sales except On Line Only, No sales of any other kind, except On Line or at my Home Office Building, in person, Order or Appointment ONLY!

Oh, and one more thing; Consider me and my Property Seceded.

This is Confederate Territory from here onward.

That is the one thing that irritates me most - when people try to turn me into something I am Not.
I Hate being twisted around and made shit of.

This weekend, I am going to put up a Website that specifically Names and Shames Ass Wipe and all of his Filth.

I will then tell the Real Truth - Over, Above and against the Lies.

I will also do a 2nd Radio Show - doing the same thing!

Sure, Ass Wipe wants to be Famous, but I can Guarantee one thing - to make him Dead Famous, for pissing me off continually with his constant Stable of Lies against me.

Hey Ass Wipe - you came up to my Home before and I have your Admission in writing.

Why not try it again?!

This time, I will be waiting in the yard, with my .45 strapped to my Hip - or are you too Fucking Yellow Chicken Shit Coward to do it?!

Ass Wipe is causing Hubby and I to fight and is Interfering in my life and my Marriage - AGAIN!
Ass Wipe WILL Die for this - DEATH TO ASS WIPE! DEATH TO ASS WIPE! DEATH TO ASS WIPE!

Even though I know no one wants me around, I am going to continue to shove myself in faces and down throats for all Eternity.

I Absolutely REFUSE to stop doing my work - I will have to be killed physically to finally be put a Real, Final, Physical end to!

Thanks to the Stable of constant Treadmill Lies I have had to endure, what used to take me a couple of days, has now turned into an all week series of Projects, that will keep me isolated and away from my own family, not allowing me any alone time at all, which means absolutely No Self Care at all either, leaving me feeling Neglected Spiritually, Mentally, Physically and emotionally too.

It makes me not want to be me anymore.

I just want to walk away from my own life and let society have at it all.

I will likely have to assume another identity and start over again, from the ground up.

To the Stalker:

May 31, 2015 at 12:38am

You may have knocked me down again, all the way back to starting point, but you can be sure of one thing - I will ALWAYS get right back up!

I will get a New Job, a New Radio Station and I will get my Message out to the world!

I also won't rest until you are in Prison for the rest of your Pathetic Loser Existence.

I will then forget about you and go on with my life.

You have had your fun and I am DONE with you.

You are going Down and Away - for good!

I will be there for every moment, from Arrest to Conviction and Sentencing.

You won't EVER get out!

Laugh now, cry later MF.

My Outlaw Blood is going to make you weep big Crocodile tears, but no one will feel sorry for you, including Me.

Me and mine will make you mess yourself.

There is Nowhere that you can hide.

Your Photo has been put on every one of my Social Medias, it has gone Global and to every Law Agency in NM.

The time for Games has ended.

I shall finish the Game - just like I said I would.

Never, Ever underestimate me.

I am Smarter than you believe that I am.
You are more Stupid than I gave you credit for.
Your Vehicle sticks out like a sore thumb.
See you later, Dumb Ass.

Additional Info on Stalking

Signs of a Narcissist

1. You enjoy leading others and telling them what to do.

Narcissists typically enjoy leadership positions since they are able to dominate others and fulfill their need for constant positive reinforcement.

2. You are an entertainer.

"A narcissist monk would not be good, but to be Kanye West and a narcissist is fantastic," said University of Western Sydney psychologist Peter Jonason, an expert on social psychology.

3. You hate having to feel emotions.

The "very fact of having a feeling in the presence of another person suggests you can be touched emotionally by friends, family, partners, and even the occasional tragedy or failure," says Harvard Medical School psychologist Craig Malkin.

That's why narcissists abhor them.

Feeling an emotion "challenges their sense of perfect autonomy," he continues. "To admit to a feeling of any kind suggests they can be affected by someone or something outside of them."

As a result, narcissists tend to change the topic of conversation when feelings come up — especially their own.

4. You are likely young and male.

After 34,653 face-to-face interviews, psychologist Frederick Stinson found that men tend to be more narcissistic than women across their lifespans.

Narcissism is believed to peak during adolescence and decline with age.

5. You are regarded as attractive and dress better than other people.

Narcissists are generally rated as more stylish and physically attractive, according to a study conducted by Simine Vazire, a psychologist at Washington University.

6. You really like to swear at people.

Psychologists Nicholas Holtzman and Michael Strube from Washington University in St. Louis found in a study that subjects who scored higher in narcissism are argumentative and curse more than their modest counterparts.

They also tend to use more sexually explicit language.

7. Instead of listening, you just wait to speak.

Anita Vangelisti, a psychologist at the University of Texas in Austin found that narcissists typically prefer to keep the conversation centered around themselves "making exaggerated hand movements, talking loudly, and showing disinterest by 'glazing over' when others speak."

8. You cheat in relationships.

Psychologists Joshua Foster at the University of South Alabama and W. Keith Campbell at the University of Georgia found that narcissists are more likely to cheat once they think their partners are committed.

They also seem to get a rush out of convincing others to engage in promiscuous sexual acts that they normally do not participate in.

9. People dump you after you've been dating for about four months.

Through his research, Campbell found that the four-month mark — the apparent satisfaction peak in any dating relationship — is typically how long it takes for someone dating a narcissist to see their true colors.

10. You put some people on pedestals.

Malkin says the logic goes like this: "If I find someone perfect to be close to, maybe some of their perfection will rub off on me, and I'll become perfect by association." With that ideal in mind, narcissists cozy up to people they find perfect — be it a colleague or a crush — and then get really disappointed when that person isn't as impeccable as they imagined.

Because for a narcissist, everything has to be perfect.

11. You like to put other people down.

Narcissistic people intentionally put down others in order to maintain a high positive image of themselves.

"Seeking admiration is like a drug for narcissists," said Mitja D. Back, a psychologist at Johannes Gutenberg University in Mainz, Germany. "In the long run it becomes difficult because others won't applaud them, so they always have to search for new acquaintances from whom they get the next fix."

This also explains why narcissists typically maintain only weak relationships.

12. Your parents ignored and adored you.

According to Sigmund Freud, a combination of parental rejection and excessive admiration is more strongly linked to adult narcissism than if one childhood experience consistently existed without the other.

The inconsistency and whiplash of the parent's attitude towards their children will eventually cause for a "deep craving for admiration" and lead the narcissistic to lead a life searching for fleeting ego boosts.

13. You choose your friends to look cool or take advantage of people.

Narcissistic men and women have different ways of choosing friends.

Women choose male friends with high social status so they can feel a sense of worthiness. Dudes choose bros who can "wingman" for them when they're trying to pick up girls.

14. If you're not grandiose, then you're introverted, hypersensitive, defensive, and anxious.

Psychologists talk about the "two faces of narcissism." On one end there's the hyper-aggressive, super-loud Donald Trump type. But there's a softer form of narcissism, too. It's called "covert narcissism," which is denoted by introversion, hypersensitivity, defensiveness, and anxiety.

"Both shades of narcissism shared a common core of conceit, arrogance, and the tendency to give in to one's own needs and disregard others," Scientific American reports.

15. You always have to be in control.

Just as narcissists hate to talk about their feelings, "they can't stand to be at the mercy of other people's preferences," Malkin says. "It reminds them that they aren't invulnerable or completely independent — that, in fact, they might have to ask for what they want — and even worse, people may not feel like meeting the request."

This is why they can be controlling without getting angry. In the case of romantic relationships, narcissists control people with disapproving glances, calls to change plans, and chronic lateness. This allows narcissists to undermine other people's ability to make choices. By doing that, narcissists maintain their sense of total autonomy — which they so desperately need.

Why do trolls troll?

Anyone who has spent time on the Web has probably wondered in exasperation what motivates people to spew venom and wreak havoc in seemingly every forum and comment section. Science has begun to provide a few answers.

A 2014 University of Manitoba study was the first to attempt to create a personality profile of trolls. Researchers surveyed hundreds of Internet users and gave them personality tests.

Most respondents said they liked to do benign things online, such as chatting and debating issues, but 5.6 percent reported that they enjoyed trolling. The personality tests for this group were striking.

People who enjoyed trolling had much higher rates of dark traits such as sadism, narcissism, psychopathy and Machiavellianism — so much so that “it might be said that online trolls are prototypical everyday sadists,” the authors concluded.

The study also found a correlation between enjoyment of trolling and the amount of time a person spent commenting online — perhaps explaining why so many corners of the Internet seem overrun by trolls.

A 2013 George Mason University study found that trolls are not just annoying to their victims. Their actions can influence the way innocent bystanders perceive and receive information online.

The researchers asked nearly 1,200 people to respond to two versions of a blog post on the risks and benefits of nanotechnology. One had more civil comments appended, while the second had ruder and more aggressive comments.

The researchers found that reading the latter selection had a polarizing effect on respondents: Readers who thought nanotechnology was safe became more entrenched in their positions, and the same was true for people on the other side of the debate.

By now, there are probably a few trolling comments on this story, too.

Online troll destroys a family's offline life

Sharon and Richard Moreno were awakened by a phone call from a police negotiator around 2:30 a.m. one night last May. He told them to get out of their home immediately and leave their adult son behind. Officers with rifles greeted the couple on their front lawn in Sterling, Va., and tackled their son William on the porch. They had been drawn by a chilling post attributed to William on a popular local Web forum: "I JUST SHOT MY PARENTS NOW I WILL KILL MY SISTER."

The Morenos say in a lawsuit that the post was a hoax, part of an unrelenting campaign of harassment by "trolls" on the forum, Fairfax Underground, that turned their lives upside down and drove William to attempt suicide.

[/Science reveals what makes trolls so nasty\]](#)

Trolls are the bane of online forums, games and comment sections, sowing discord with inflammatory remarks and needling other users for laughs. Most are content to cause trouble on the Web, but in the Morenos' case, the lawsuit says, the attacks made the unusual leap from cyberspace to the real world.

Malevolent trolling has raised increasing concern in recent years. "RIP Trolls" deface Facebook memorial pages to dead children. The white supremacist site Daily Stormer has deployed a "troll army" to target a Jewish British politician and a Muslim activist in Australia. And angry trolls viciously attacked a video game designer and other women at the center of the much-publicized "Gamergate" saga, sending them dozens of death and rape threats and promising a mass shooting at a speaking event.

Many sites are trying to tame the problem. Twitter has rolled out lists of troll accounts users can share, and YouTube revamped its comment moderation to play down trolling. Some sites, like Popular Science, have done away with comments altogether.

Fairfax Underground was founded on the idea of creating a zone of unfettered free speech on local issues, but that idealism has sometimes given way to a darker reality. Trolling on the forum has resulted in a criminal conviction, a bomb scare, reports of stalking and more.

The Morenos' lawsuit claims that William was accused of rape on the forum and mass-bombing threats were posted under his name, his parents' house was vandalized, he received death threats, his car was broken into, and his mother's job was put in jeopardy. A Fairfax Underground user swore out a charge against William that he called false. (He was acquitted in court.)

"It was a reign of terror," said William, 32.

It's often difficult to know who is carrying out the harassment because most Fairfax Underground users are anonymous, but the Moreno family filed suit in Fairfax County against a Richmond-area user named Michael Josef Basl, known on the forum as "eesh," and a second user whose identity is unknown. In a separate case this month, Basl was convicted of posting explicit photos of a woman to the site. He is appealing the case.

In an interview, Basl denied posting the threats that led police to the Morenos' home, and he called the lawsuit "frivolous." He said William Moreno and other users have a grudge against him.

“I’m not responsible for the vast majority of the stuff in the lawsuit,” Basl said. “They make me out like I’m a sinister person. I’m not.”

However, a fellow Fairfax Underground user testified in court this year that Basl told her he was behind some of the attacks on the Morenos, including the “swatting” incident — or falsely summoning a police tactical team. Basl testified that her account was untrue.

“He said, ‘I did it so that Moreno could make a wrong move and get shot and killed by the police,’ ” Monique Wells told a judge.

‘This is eesh’

William Moreno logged onto his e-mail in March 2012 to find a strange message. At the time, he was a student at Virginia Commonwealth University.

“Hello Mr. Misery, this is eesh,” it read, according to the lawsuit. “You do understand your drama on Fairfax Underground will get you expelled from VCU, right? Talk to you later William Moreno.”

The salvo was the opening of a two-year campaign against Moreno and his family. William said the message struck him like a bolt because he had never revealed his e-mail address, that he was “Mr. Misery” on Fairfax Underground or that he attended VCU. Someone was tracking him.

William Moreno said he discovered Fairfax Underground three years earlier. He has a mild form of autism and suffers from major depression. His parents said a Web forum was a natural fit for someone who finds it painful to socialize in the real world.

Mr. Misery displayed quirky humor but also contributed offensive comments about child molestation and the Sept. 11, 2001, attacks. Moreno said those posts were not serious, but he earned the ire of some users.

Fairfax Underground is a freewheeling digital watercooler, where more than 1.5 million users with screen names like “friskydingo” discuss everything from teacher salaries to pornography. The site is a deep well of information about Northern Virginia, and its users have broken news, but conversation is often raw and laced with racism, sexism, personal attacks and bogus claims.

“When you run an online forum, you are no longer totally in control,” said Cary Wiedemann, who founded the site in 2004. “Fairfax Underground has taken on a life of its own.”

Michelle Drouin, an Indiana University psychology professor who studies technology, said the anonymity and connectivity of the Internet have created a “sadist’s playground.”

“People that want to distress other people can now do it in the comfort of their own home,” Drouin said. “It has less repercussions than harassment offline, and the Internet allows for this emotional distance between the harasser and the victim.”

Mr. Misery was banned from the forum in January 2012 for flooding it with messages, but William Moreno continued to post under other usernames. A couple of months after the ban, the lawsuit says, Moreno received the e-mail that referenced VCU. Eesh threatened to take Moreno’s posts to school officials.

Basl has testified in court that his username is “eesh” and admitted in response to the Morenos’ lawsuit that he sent the e-mail. Basl also admitted that he placed a note on William’s windshield to deter him from using Fairfax Underground.

‘I will show you NO quarter’

Eesh is one of the most prolific posters on the forum, and other users described him as flamboyant and a self-appointed sheriff of the site. Basl, 34, said he is a military veteran and a community college student, but declined to offer other personal details.

The harassment began to escalate in December 2013, according to the lawsuit. Someone broke into the Morenos’ home while they were away and flooded the basement. The lawsuit says eesh posted a message the same day, saying he was coming to Sterling to see William Moreno. Basl denies any role in the vandalism.

Despite the break-in, the online harassment remained unknown to William’s parents — until, Sharon Moreno said, she was going through a security-clearance review for her job as an intelligence contractor.

Sharon Moreno recalled becoming increasingly puzzled as an investigator asked her about a party she could not remember. Finally, the woman told her to look at Fairfax Underground.

Sharon Moreno said her jaw dropped. She said someone purporting to be a 13-year-old girl wrote in a message that William had raped her during a party at the family’s home. The Morenos say the post was another hoax.

Sharon Moreno was required to undergo a polygraph test, but she said she was so anxious about the post that she could not complete it. She eventually got her security clearance renewed.

By mid-2014, William Moreno said, he was growing increasingly despondent about the online attacks. While the family was preparing dinner one night, he took a kitchen knife and attempted to slit his wrists. He was rushed to the hospital.

The harassment only increased. In October 2014, the lawsuit says, a picture of Basl pointing a revolver at the viewer was posted along with a message: “You can run but you can’t hide, Miz.” Basl denies making the post.

Messages appeared on the forum saying that William wanted to carry out attacks with pipe bombs and that he had raped a VCU student, according to the lawsuit. A post showed up under his father’s name, saying he had witnessed William molesting his sister. Then, an anonymous poster threatened to ruin William’s reputation in Google search results.

“I will show you NO quarter. . . . Your parents are old and defenseless,” the message read, according to the lawsuit. Moreno said Google searches for his name began to turn up references to pedophilia.

The Morenos filed their lawsuit in January. Less than a week after he was served, Basl went to a magistrate and swore out a charge against William Moreno. At trial in April, Basl testified that Moreno had made death threats against him in phone calls and in forum messages.

But Monique Wells, another Fairfax Underground user, testified that Basl admitted to her that he had sent the death threats to himself. “He was proud of it,” Wells said.

A judge acquitted Moreno.

Both Moreno and his mother have sought counseling.

“He keeps saying over and over again, ‘Our lives are ruined,’ ” Sharon Moreno said of her son.
