

NO LOOSE ENDS

Kate is the only granddaughter of The Duke of Devon, and the daughter of Lord and Lady Sanford. When Kate is in England she's Lady Kate and when she's in the Louisiana bayou, she's Private Investigator Kate Bodine.

She trained in aiki-ju-jutsu, karate, and judo, for six years, earning a second degree black belt in each art. While in graduate school, she took private lessons in "real world application" under her sensei. During that time she also became an excellent marksman.

In No Loose Ends, Kate Bodine is hired by Mike Greenwald, a successful start-up computer company owner, to find Diana Dorsey, a woman he fell in love with, who disappeared in Cornwall, England. Diana was on her way to join him in Connecticut when she vanished. Mike had all but given up on trying to find her, when he receives a postcard from her saying, "Help Me."
