

In fourth grade, I created my own money called “Moolah”. The kids could earn (or lose) money to spend in the class store. They could buy small things each week or save up for better goodies. Lots of good skills for this. I had “Po-cow-hontas”, “Sitting Bull”, “Moo-zart”, “Moo-na Lisa”, and “Pi-cow-so”.

When I see former students, the one thing they all remember was the Moolah.
