

When two young college students demonstrate their newly discovered ability to manipulate the actions of animals as a demonstration to prove their representations intended to prove hunting they have an understanding of how it was learned a child of ecological events are provided. Though it is likely to occur this phenomenon they become aware of the results of attempting to learn what cannot be controlled, including the inevitable greed for power. Fred Churchill and Ed Whiting fall victim to evolutionary consequences that change both life and their lives forever.

A test subject dog escapes and is struck by the car of an authoring victim unaware the genetically induced canine possesses far more capabilities than most the eye. A victim of attraction and loneliness is a failing to accept George Martin becomes involved in recognizing his moral values and fight the dog to prevent personal economic crisis. The author groups resistance from the FBI that causes the entire scenario to reach against the world.

Representations further require as the human race evolves to become everything it once hoped to be in ways unimaginable.

Astray The Tricksters Trademark

Brian S. Goodson and
Deborah J. Conklin
are co authors of several books.
They live in Los Angeles.

Barcode Area

We will add the barcode for you.
Made with Cover Creator

Copyright © 2014 by Brian S. Goodson

ISBN 978-1-61450-111-1

Astray The Tricksters Trademark

Brian S. Goodson
Deborah J. Conklin

