

HOW TO BE A GOOD WIFE 1

Copyright, October 25, 2021, by Cupideros

How to be a good wife is no easy thing.
She must set her house, then herself in order!
Lower her fine dress over freshly done curls.
Prepare her best rooms for a romp of sex,
And create a vivid sense of moral peace.

But first, a hundred times, she must drill her kiss,
A thousand times, she must gift-hug herself
To induce the art of a welcoming warm hug.
Until she feels ready for his starts and stops
More vigorous, erotic precious embrace
At first, or second, or final third base!

At peace now, she pours honey on her tongue,
And tries to say, "No!" but only "Yes," will come
Out of her parted hungry, quivering pink lips
With a scanty dab of lip gloss to smooth his way.

Her speech is even, her tone is sweet soft,
Her man is her mate, not to be kept far off;
From his charms that simmer her mast and sails
Their fluttering, pulsating, to his strong details!